

BIOGRAPHY

First Lady, Evangelist Vivian K. Brooks

Vivian K. Worthington Brooks is a saved woman - full of the Holy Ghost. Through her work in the ministry she has made her calling and election sure. -And surely she is a woman equipped to teach other women about what it means to live saved.

She has studied early childhood and special education. And has even provided child care services from her home. She is a mother at heart. And has bore 4 children: Kilitta, Ketreia, Kevitta, and Wayne Jr. She is a proud grandmother of 3 grandsons, Evian, Darian, and the newest, Devin.

First Lady Brooks has been a dedicated wife to her husband Pastor Wayne M. Brooks, Sr. for 33 "faithful, dedicated and committed" years. She has labored beside him at Deliverance Tabernacle COGIC since joining the Washington DC Jurisdiction in 1998.

Evangelist Brooks has proven to be a faithful helpmate to her husband. She is an honored First Lady and she has served the ministry faithfully. You may know her through her powerful teaching ministry and dynamic speaking ability in teaching women how to live saved. She is especially skilled at teaching woman how to be virtuous rather single or married.

One of First Lady Brooks' favorite scriptures is Jeremiah 32:27 - "Behold I am the God of all flesh is the anything too hard for me." Truly Evangelist Brooks believes this verse answers everything that a saint needs to know to BE encouraged and to STAY encouraged.

When asked why she loves God the way that she does, she answers, "Because He first loved me, died for my sins and set me free."
